GENERAL VISITS EXHIBIT

WASHINGTON D.C. – Gen. Bruce Carlson, center, who took command of Air Force Materiel Command last month, visits the Air Force Research Laboratory exhibit at the Air Force Association's Air & Space Conference and Technology Exposition in Washington D.C., this week. He speaks here with 2nd Lts. Brian W. Spanbauer, left, and Joseph J. Friel of the laboratory's Directed Energy Directorate who demonstrated a computer program that allowed exhibit visitors to destroy enemy aircraft and missiles with lasers and a relay mirror suspended from a high-altitude airship.
